

April 6, 2006

Please write your message here. Take note of the style tips and talking points in the sidebar.

I oppose the formation of a bank by Wal-mart. Sam Walton's empire is already becoming a threat to free market competition and the formation of a bank only expands their stronghold of control of product availability and pricing. If something is not done to stop the "Walton March" we may soon lose the ability to purchase items at a competitive price and money availability at a competitive rate, because a monopoly could result, which would raise prices and curtail the free-market and free-enterprise system we cherish and for which this country has fought so hard through the years. Please do NOT allow the formation of this financial nightmare.

Gregory J. Johnson